Thank you, Sam and Tiffany; as I have been in 6 or 7 hospitals, rehabs, and nursing homes for the past three years, it will take a few days to retrieve the documents I do not already have. Because of my Alzheimers, I must track dates and locations carefully. I can't remember some details, so I must establish a paper trail. Fortunately, my girlfriend is a doctor who helps me with these things. I have coordinated with the business office to set up a fax retrieval center. I will send a legal brief with as much information as possible that a 'brief' requires. I can't thank you enough. I'm stressed between this problem and trying to settle my affairs.

One other thing: I remember why I missed that PTR court date. Even after being quarantined for 14 days at the detention center, I contracted COVID, which nearly killed me. Depending on hospital administrators, retrieving the documents and writing the brief should take a week. Also, I defaulted on several of my fiduciary responsibilities because I spent two years and four months incarcerated. I have since brought my credit score up to a reasonable level to attempt to get a personal loan to pay off the balance of my fines with both Sebastian and Johnson counties. Perhaps you could tell me whom to contact to retrieve my balance owed. Before I finish this novel, I would like to tell you that I have a very professional website in the works for your enterprise. Perhaps when I get close to publishing your website, you could provide professional photos of you and your staff. The ones on your present site could use a bit of polish. Again, thank you very, very much. You've been a true professional in your duty to the court.

Sincerely
Gerald Patterson

p.s. Please forward me the warrant. I need the details to complete the brief.
